Introduction

This guide is developed to provide a resource for workers across Inner- and Outer- Eastern Melbourne to navigate the various health and community support sectors, for the benefit of the people (consumers and carers/families) that they work with. The objective is for people within these areas of Melbourne to be provided with a more seamless journey to the right supports to meet their individual needs, and experience warmer support pathways.

It has been identified in the Productivity Commission findings 2020 and the Victorian Mental Health Royal Commission report 2021 that the navigation of supports for people is a key area of need. Issues with navigation of supports are identified as common concerns in both reports and the impacts on consumers, their families and the people who support them are outlined. Online and centralised navigation portals are recommendations from both reports, to improve the providers understanding of available services when assisting people.

This navigation guide aims to bridge the gap for service providers in lieu of a suitable online navigation platform. The guide will also assist providers to understand key entry points to the various service sectors.

The resource is divided into sector specific sections and contains information to assist staff to know the eligibility criteria, catchments, and suitable entry points. This information aims to support appropriate referrals for people. It also includes some useful links and demystifies acronyms and terms for each sector. This guide does not intend to provide a comprehensive list of services and supports, but rather key access points that will assist with service navigation.

The authors would also like to acknowledge that there are many other sectors and services that may not yet be included in this resource. Since its first published date in January 2022, we have added Community Legal Services as well as CALD Programs and are currently working with our community partners to include an Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people/s section.

This resource is current as of December 2022, and the authors take no responsibility for the ongoing accuracy of the content. Web links are provided for each service sector and should be referred to when accuracy is required.

This resource takes some inspiration from “A guide to making links” developed in 2018 by the AOD, Homelessness and Mental Health supports in Melbourne’s North and West.

The Eastern Regional Coordinators acknowledge the Australian Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples of this nation. We acknowledge the traditional custodians of the lands on which we are located and where we conduct our business. We pay our respects to ancestors and Elders, past and present. We are committed to honouring Australian Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples’ unique cultural and spiritual relationships to the land, waters and seas and their rich contribution to society.

Eastern Regional Coordinators

The Eastern Regional Coordinators group was founded by the Department of Families Fairness and Housing in 2014 with the following aims:

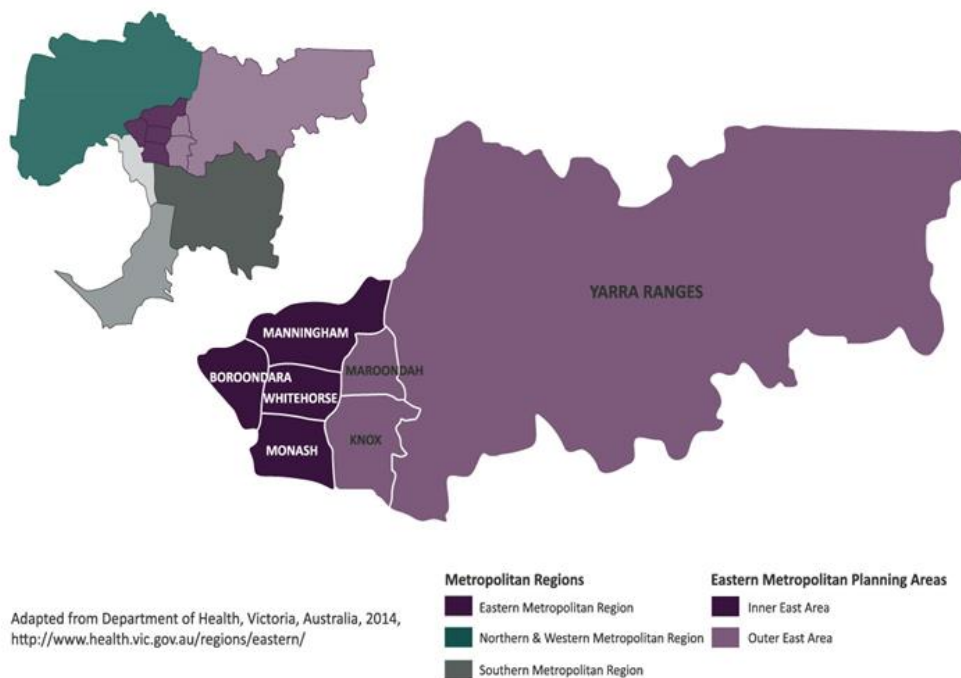

- To bring together the area coordinators whose role it is to promote and facilitate service coordination across the region.
- To reduce duplication of effort in providing navigation tools for the various sectors when the cohorts accessing services are largely similar.
- To support integration across sectors with workforce development, role modelling, promoting collaborative practice and training.
- To share relevant data and information across health and community service sectors.
- To seek opportunities to strengthen partnerships, links, responses & referral protocols.

Membership of the Eastern Regional Coordinators Group represents the following sectors: Homelessness; Family Violence; Family Services; Mental Health; Alcohol & Other Drugs; Children and Families; FaPMI; Aboriginal services; NDIS.

The coordination function of this group currently rests with the Family Violence Principal Strategic Advisor for the Eastern Metropolitan Region, Christine Robinson. Correspondence regarding this group can be made to:

Christine.Robinson.RFVP@fvfree.org.au

Homelessness Services

Eligibility

Someone 16 years old or above who is homeless, or at risk of homelessness who is looking for some support to find housing and address any issues that might hinder housing stability.

Catchments/Locations

In the inner and outer eastern areas of Melbourne.

Access

Referral to homelessness resources is through a Homelessness Entry Point.

The Entry Points in the Inner and Outer east are:

- Anchor Incorporated, Lilydale - 9760 6400
- Community Housing Ltd, Box Hill - 9856 0098
- The Salvation Army, Nunawading - 9853 5680
- Uniting Ringwood - 8870 4020

If someone is homeless, at risk of homelessness or escaping family violence, and you are unsure of which entry point is their closest (or its after hours), please ask them to call 1800 825 955 - 24 hour, statewide, toll-free number to speak with a housing and support worker.

This number will be directed to the closest service, or if the call is outside business hours, it will be directed to Salvation Army Crisis Services.

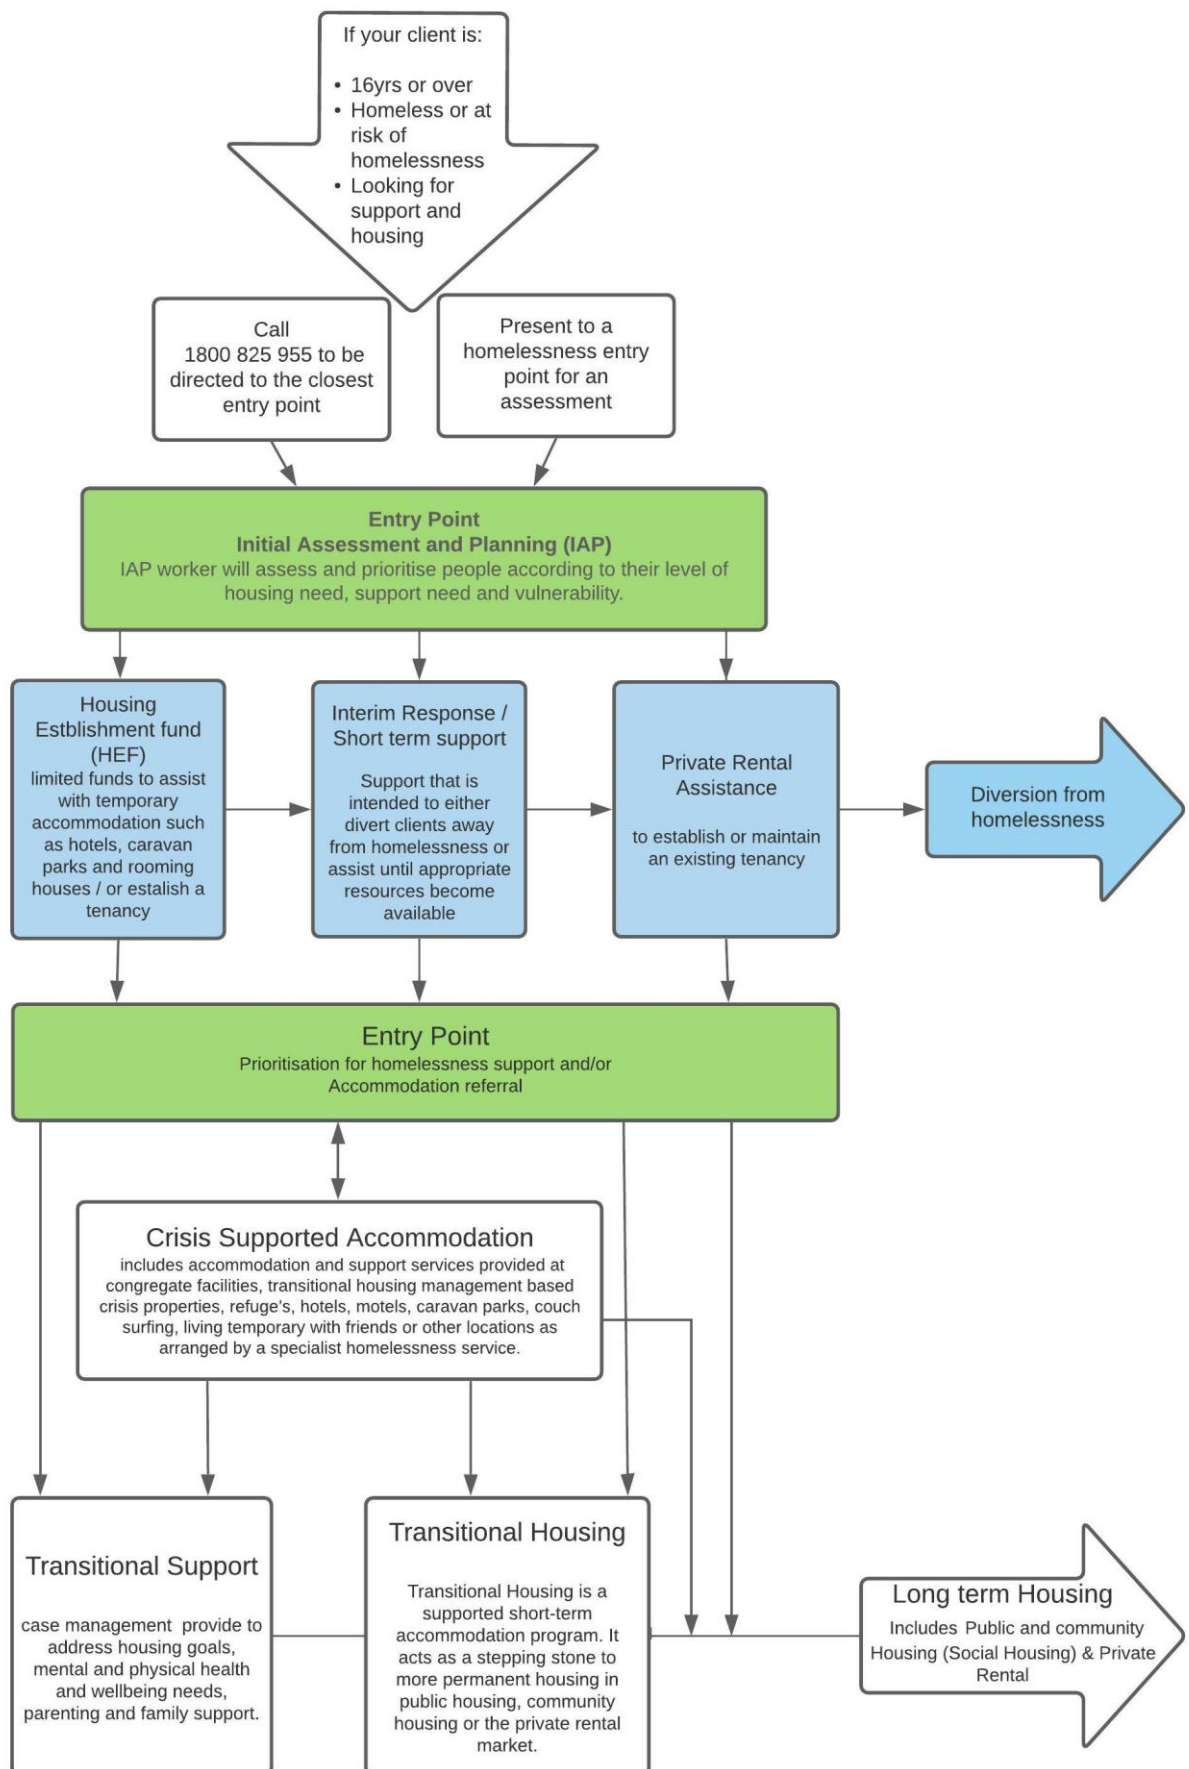

For a full list of homelessness and family violence access points around the state, see: <https://services.DFFH.vic.gov.au/getting-help>

Service Pathway

What people can expect when accessing homelessness entry point services

1. An initial assessment and planning (IAP) worker will assess and prioritise people according to their level of housing need, support need and vulnerability.
2. The IA&P worker will provide information on housing options and assist an individual or household to receive a crisis response and do some short-term planning.
3. Entry points have some capacity to refer to crisis accommodation services and have limited funds to assist some people to pay for temporary accommodation in local hotels and rooming houses. Entry points also provide information about mainstream accommodation options available in the community.
4. As accommodation or support becomes available, clients are best-matched and referred to each vacancy.

Types of Support

- Short term/Crisis assistance: this is a form of very short-term support to either help divert clients away from homelessness where appropriate or contain acute crises until more appropriate resources become available.
- Crisis supported accommodation: short term supported accommodation (average of six weeks) for people in immediate crisis who require intensive support. Examples include youth refuges, women's refuges, and the major night shelters.
- Housing Establishment Funds (HEF): Financial assistance to support people to either access or maintain private rental, and to provide short term (usually overnight) accommodation for people in crisis who are homeless or at risk of homelessness.
- Private rental brokerage/Private Rental Access Program: Funds to assist households to sustain or establish new tenancies in the private rental market. Homelessness entry points can refer to the appropriate service.
- Family Violence Flexible Support Package (FSP) Funding: The purposes of FSPs are for a response to provide personalised, targeted assistance and to assist women and children living with family violence in a crisis or post-crisis situation. A case manager should contact FVREE for more information.
- Transitional support: Case management support to assist people to find appropriate housing and address any issues that have contributed to their experience of homelessness. Services are generally provided on an outreach basis for an average of three months.
- Transitional housing: Medium-term accommodation (4 – 18 months) in which residents enter into an occupancy agreement subject to the provisions of the Residential Tenancies Act (RTA).
- Long term housing options: Social housing (public and community housing) is managed by both Homes Victoria (formally DFFH) and community housing providers.

Potential Challenges to Access

- Each homelessness entry point works differently. Some offer a drop-in service where people wait to be seen by an intake worker on a first-come, first-served basis. Others require you to make an appointment to be assessed. So, it is recommended to ring the access point before arrival whenever possible.
- Clients may not be seen on the day they present to the access point and may need to re-present the following day.
- The entry points provide a crisis response not long-term case management and there may or may not be an option to refer to longer term support.
- There is not enough affordable housing for people and long-term housing is limited. People can wait many years for social housing to become available.

Children, Youth and Families

Eligibility

Families with children 0-18 years of age who reside in the Inner and Outer Eastern Region where parenting support has been identified as needed.

Catchments/Locations

The Children, Youth and Families sector delivers programs and services including Integrated Family Services and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander specific services in the Inner East and Outer East.

Catchments defined by DFFH: Outer east; the cities of Yarra Ranges, Knox, Maroondah, Inner East; Whitehorse, Manningham, Monash and Boroondara.

Outer East - Anglicare Victoria, Uniting Vic Tas, Eastern Access Community Health (EACH), Victorian Aboriginal Child Care Agency (VACCA), Boorndawan Willam Aboriginal Healing Service (BWAHS), Mackillop Family Services.

Inner East - Anglicare Victoria, Uniting Vic Tas, Doncare, Camcare/Access Health and Community, Latrobe Community Health, City of Monash, Victorian Aboriginal Child Care Agency (VACCA), Mackillop Family Services and Boorndawan Willam Aboriginal Healing Service (BWAHS).

Access

All referrals to Integrated Family Services are via The Orange Door.

The Orange Door helps women, children and young people experiencing family violence and families who need support with the wellbeing and development of their children. The Orange Door helps connect people directly to services and provide a coordinated response to a range of different needs, and where required a whole-of-family response, including holding perpetrators to account.

Service Pathway

The Orange Door provides short term intake and assessment, if deemed appropriate for Family Services, the family will be presented at a weekly Allocations meeting for allocation to individual agencies.

Family Services providers will contact families directly within a prescribed time period (3-5 working days) to provide contacts and begin engagement.

Outer East: The Orange Door Outer East Phone Number is 1800 271 150

Inner East: The Orange Door Inner East Phone Number: 1800 354 322

Orange Door or Child Protection?

The Orange Door	Child Protection
⇒ You are concerned about the wellbeing of a child.	⇒ When concerns have a serious impact on a child's immediate or imminent safety
⇒ You believe that the family are in need of support services to better meet the needs of the child/ren.	⇒ Physical abuse (specifically any injuries) and/or sexual abuse (including disclosures)
⇒ Advice is needed in navigating the service system	⇒ Child abandoned, parents are dead or incapacitated, and no other person is properly caring for them.
⇒ The immediate safety of the child is not compromised.	⇒ Serious emotional, psychological abuse or ill treatment, neglect impacting on healthy development. ⇒ Child/young person's actions place them at significant risk and parents are unwilling or unable to protect ⇒ Concerns are persistent and entrenched and likely to have a serious impact on the child's development.
NOTE: Mandated reports to Child Protection must be directed to Child Protection Intake

Hot Tips for Access

Although consent is not required for referrals to The Orange Door, and referrers can remain anonymous, engagement is often more likely with family's prior knowledge.

Types of Support

Integrated Family Services (IFS) is a voluntary case management and parenting support service, offering support to families in need, in an outreach capacity in their homes. IFS work with families to promote child safety, development and to increase parenting capacity and family functioning.

IFS develop Child & Family Action plans with families, and are goal driven with regular reviews and assessments conducted with families.

IFS would see families on a weekly basis, as deemed appropriate, reducing contact to fortnightly as families are transitioning to closure.

IFS work with the whole family, including separated parents, where appropriate.

IFS are committed to working in partnership with all services who support families.

Different agencies provide a suite of other services such as early years, family violence, disability support, adolescent focused and CALD specific to compliment the Family Services program. For more information, speak to the agency specifically.

VACCA and BWAHS provide specific support to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander families in the Inner and Outer Eastern Region.

Aboriginal Liaison Worker (ALW): The ALW is based at VACCA and consults with IFS and the SCPPCB, to link Aboriginal specific services and to provide a culturally appropriate service to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Families.

Senior Child Protection Practitioner-Community Based (SCPP-CB): The Orange Door and IFS have access to a SCPP-CB who can support FS practitioners and families helping to manage risk in the community.

Family Services Specialist Disability Practitioners (FSSDP)

To build both disability and National Disability Insurance Scheme expertise across the community-based family services systems. To assist vulnerable children and parents with disability to access disability supports and participate effectively in the NDIS.

Build the ongoing capacity of all family services practitioners to support families to navigate the NDIS to receive timely access to disability supports

Build the ongoing capacity of other family services practitioners to support families with disability support needs through understanding and utilising avenues for secondary consultation and referral.

Intake Inner East: The Orange Door Inner East: 1800 354 322

Intake Outer East: The Orange Door Outer East: 1800 271 150

Potential Challenges to Access

Client consent is required for referral to Family Services as it is a voluntary program.

Consent is not required for referral to the Orange Door.

For Families that may not meet the threshold for a referral to Family Services, the Parentzone Newsletter offers a range of alternative support options across the whole Eastern Region.

Children and Young People

Eligibility

The difficulty lies in the definitions of children and youth depending on the sector. Children do not self-refer. They access the services via their parents or guardians. Young people, depending on their circumstances, can self-refer to services.

It is reliant on practitioners understanding referral pathways depending on the age and needs of the child/youth.

Catchments/Locations

These follow the DFFH areas and there are multiple intake points according to the service sector, homelessness, family violence, mental health, Aboriginal services etc.

Access

Varied depending on services required. Practitioners make enquiries & referrals

Service Pathway

Pathways for children and youth are not clear cut. There are multiple crossovers and sector variances that can make identifying pathways complex at times.

Potential Challenges to Access

- Children are often not assessed as individual clients when presenting to mainstream, non-child specific services and so may not be assessed and referred at all or appropriately.
- There is no single 'Children's Sector' but a range of options for children in each sector.

Tips for Access

- If you are assessing support for a child often you are getting information about the parent and their view.
- If practitioners are not sure how to talk to a parent about their child's experience or how to talk with a child about their own experience, a secondary consult with the appropriate service specialty is advised. Coaching is usually available to assist with difficult conversations.

Children & Young People within Homelessness & Family Violence services:

Statewide Children's Resource Program (SCRP):

The Statewide Children's Resource Program (SCRP) is funded by DFFH to assist, support and resource Specialist Homelessness System services and other non-government agencies and sectors to respond effectively to the unique needs of children and young people who have experienced homelessness and /or family violence. The role of the SCRCP is flexible and can meet specific regional needs that are identified within the program's core functions, these being:

- Secondary Consultation
 - Complex case discussions, assessment frameworks
- Training and Resources
 - Trauma, attachment, intervention, engagement tools
- Networking and Advocacy
- Resources
 - Toolkits are available for practitioners to assist them to engage with clients and children Information on upcoming training, latest research and legislative changes
- Brokerage
 - Brokerage provides opportunities for infants and children to access goods, services and experiences to engage in positive childhood activities. It also encourage homelessness and family violence support providers to integrate child and family-centered assessment and case planning into their work practice.

The SCRCP is a resource for practitioners, not a client accessible resource.

If person may be an immediate risk to self or others: CALL 000

Service Pathway

1. Your client calls the access number for their region (see figure a), with your client's consent, you can assist by making this call on their behalf. We will ask a few questions to see if our services are right for the person or

2. We can organise a personal assessment*, If not, we will help make connections with other services.

Victorian AOD Intake tool:

<https://www2.health.vic.gov.au/about/publications/FormsAndTemplates/victorian-aod-intake-tool>

*The assessment helps us to plan the treatment options that are most suited to your client

Treatment & Support

- Together we will work towards your client's recovery goals.
- Your client's family can be involved if they wish.
- * Clients aged 16-20 can choose to be seen by either a youth or an adult service.
- With client consent, we will share client information with those who are involved in providing care. Client information is kept on one electronic shared record.
- Secondary consultation
- If you require a clinical consultation, contact the Drug and Clinical Advisory Service on 1800 812 804, a 24 hour, 7 days a week specialist telephone consultancy service available for health professionals in Victoria.

- Specialist services

- If your client is ordered by the Court to attend treatment, they will be referred to services via the ACSO COATS program: <http://coats.acso.org.au/>
- The AOD Service has no exclusion for people facing legal processes.

Types of Support

- Intake
- Comprehensive Assessment
- Counselling
- Bridging Support
- Brief Intervention
- Non-Residential Withdrawal
- Residential withdrawal - Detox facilities
- Family single sessions across withdrawal, assessment, and intake
- Care and Recovery
- Therapeutic day rehabilitation
- Peer Support
- Pharmacotherapy
- Drug Diversion Appointment Line
- Choices (Brokerage/ACSO referral)
- Kickstart (Forensic brokerage/ACSO referral)
- Specialised Youth AOD counselling

Potential Challenges to Access

- People will need to be screened to assess their eligibility for state funded AOD services. If they do not meet the threshold for a substance use disorder, they will be referred to private support services.
- Waiting times for treatment, particularly residential rehabilitation, can be substantial (anywhere between 1-3 months). For clients requiring residential rehabilitation their residential withdrawal will commence immediately prior to their rehabilitation admission. This means that they need support to keep them engaged and well during their wait.

Tips for Access

- A warm referral, where another worker connected to the person supports them to make the call to AOD intake is recommended for people who may be anxious or experiencing other mental ill-health.
- As wait lists for rehabilitation facilities can be lengthy, there are pre-admission support groups to keep people engaged whilst they wait for admission.

Urgent Help

- Please contact 000 if you or someone you know is at immediate risk of harm.

This would include people with serious issues arising from their use of alcohol or other drugs and who are:

- at risk of long-term harm or impairment, and
- not able to be assisted by primary health providers alone.
- Equitable access to services will be provided to groups of people who are particularly vulnerable or are experiencing high levels of disadvantage.

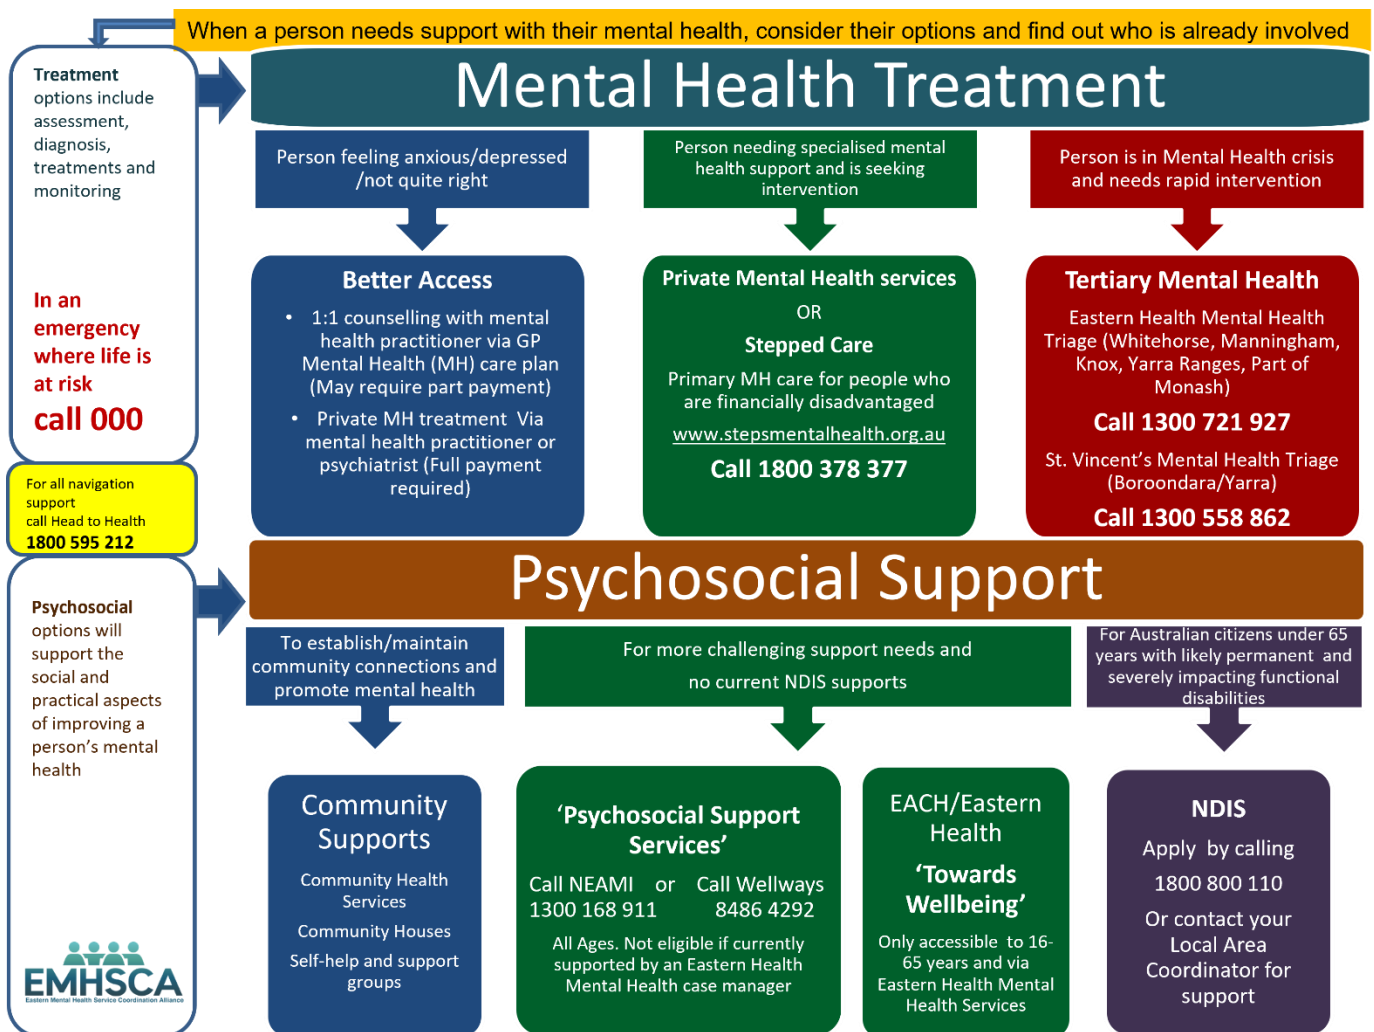

Mental Health Services

When a person requires help with their mental health, it is important to first consider who is already supporting them. They may have a private psychologist or psychiatrist along with family supports. Getting in contact with existing supports (with consent) will greatly assist in the planning of next steps.

A decision needs to be made about the type of support a person requires. Generally, people begin their Recovery journey by accessing treatment focused supports. This would normally begin with a visit to their G.P.

Please see Figure 6 to assist you in deciding which is the best pathway to Mental Health supports.

Treatment Services for People who are Seeking Interventions

Better Access Initiative

This initiative gives Medicare rebates to eligible people so they can access primary mental health supports. Eligible people can receive support from a range of practitioners including eligible G.P's, other medical practitioners, Psychologists, Social Workers and Occupational Therapists. Up to 10 individual and up to 10 group mental health services can be accessed per year.

Eligibility

People with a diagnosed mental disorder, such as depression and anxiety, can receive the Better Access rebate.

Access

A G.P. can develop a Mental Health care plan with the person requiring support. Together the G.P and the patient can identify suitable supports. The G.P. will provide the care plan and refer the patient. The patient then seeks an appointment and engages with the support.

Mental Health Stepped Care

This is a model that focuses on linking individuals with the right level of support to meet their needs. A 'wrap-around' approach is taken to meet the whole of health needs of people. As support needs change over time, Stepped Care will be flexible to meet those needs.

Eligibility

This service is free and confidential, but eligibility is determined by where you live or work.

You can access Steps Mental Health services if you are:

- Living or working in the Cities of Boroondara, Knox, Manningham, Maroondah, Monash, Whitehorse and Yarra Ranges.
- Need support with mental health or emotional wellbeing from a community based service.
- Unable to access or afford private mental health services (such as a private psychologist).

You don't require a G.P. referral to access these services, however having your G.P. involved is helpful.

Access

Treatment Services for People in Crisis

Eligibility

The tertiary mental health sector is a government run series of hospital beds and community supports that are available to people aged between 0-25 years (Infant, Child and youth services), 26 years and over (Adult and Older Person's services). These services are designed to be accessed when a person is in mental health crisis, and ongoing care aims to reintegrate people back into the community upon discharge from hospital.

Catchments/Locations

The Eastern Health catchment area includes the following Local Government Areas: Boroondara (Camberwell); Knox (Northeast and Northwest); Manningham; Maroondah; Whitehorse (Box Hill and Nunawading); Yarra Ranges (including the Dandenongs, Lilydale and Seville).

Access

Intake is centralised. Access needs are assessed via phone 1300 721 927 for all age groups.

Referral requirements. When can people access these services?

- Triage is the point of entry to Eastern Health public mental health services
- All phone calls are answered by a senior mental health clinician
- Phone response is available 24 hours, 7 days per week
- Each call involves taking a history of the current issues, past history as appropriate, talking to the client to undertake a Mental State Examination and comprehensive risk assessment. The clinician then formulates the presenting issues and makes a plan for an appropriate outcome.

As part of the Recovery framework, clinicians involve carers, significant others, and children (when appropriate) as part of the assessment. Other service providers such as GP, private psychiatrists or community mental health workers are also contacted and involved in the assessment process.

Mental Health Triage also covers the 3 Emergency Departments across EH.

- Angliss
- Maroondah
- Box Hill

Service is provided 24/7

For urgent support

Call 000 for urgent help if the person is a significant and immediate risk of harm to themselves or others.

The person may also reach out to:

Lifeline 13 11 14

SuicideLine 1300 651 251

Potential Challenges to Access

People must be in crisis to access these supports initially. Is the person in immediate risk of suicide or are they experiencing severe mental health symptoms which put themselves or others at risk?

The person will be assessed over the phone which can be challenging for some people. They may also enter via emergency services (police and/or ambulance) and/or the emergency department of the hospital. This can be an anxious time for the person and their family/friends.

Information for contacting Mental Health Triage 1300 721 927

- Provide detail regarding name, current address, Phone, D.O.B.
- Be clear about your observations of client and/or specific information gathered about the situation from careers.
- Use mental state assessment terminology when you can
- Why do you require the assistance of mental health services at this time? (Why now?)
- Describe the Safety Issues:

Remember the SLAP to describe risk of harm

- Specificity: How SPECIFIC is the plan? The more specific the details relate, the higher the degree of present risk.
- Lethality: How LETHAL is the proposed method? How quickly could the person die if the plan is implemented? The greater the level of lethality, the greater the risk.
- Availability: How AVAILABLE is the proposed method? If the tool to be used is readily available, the level of suicide risk is greater.
- Proximity: What is the PROXIMITY of helping resources? Generally, the greater the distance the person is from helping resources, –if the plan were implemented, the greater the degree of risk.

What are the person's current supports?

i.e. family, friends, services, networks.

- Consider whether Emergency Services (Police, Ambulance) are a more appropriate point of contact.
- Be prepared to pursue support if the client is assessed as high-risk by your service's Risk Assessment method and does not have any other source of adequate support to maintain their safety or the safety of others. This may involve a call to 000.
- Document your conversations and plans.

Service Pathways

The person may require mental health treatment and/or psychosocial supports. Here is a guide to the 2 areas of need.

Mental Health treatment needs

The person is experiencing mental ill-health and requires:

- Assessment
- Diagnosis

- Treatment and monitoring to stabilise the symptoms, regain functioning and focus on wellbeing and resilience

Psychosocial Support needs

The person has ongoing challenges with:

- Managing daily tasks
- Making connections with others
- Improving community participation
- Finding housing
- Undertaking work or study
- Becoming physically more active

Types of Support:

Crisis and Assessment Teams and Prevention and Recovery Care (PARC) facilities are available to support people in the short term to avoid hospitalisation and to support people in the early days of discharge from hospital when their needs are still acute.

Continuing care teams (CCTs) provide case management and treatment support for people who are less acute and requiring less frequent clinical supports.

Mobile Support Teams are for people with ongoing and more intensive treatment and rehabilitation support needs who are living in the community.

Community care units are medium term rehabilitation focused accommodation facilities where a person requires support with living skills to enable them to live again successfully in the community.

A range of specialist supports are also available for Dual Diagnosis (Mental ill-health and substance use issues); Family Violence; Forensic; Personality Disorders; Suicide intervention; Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander social and emotional wellbeing.

Urgent Help

Assessment takes place via the Mental Health Access teams. The level of risk to self and/or others will be made at this assessment, and the response will be decided by trained clinicians as part of a multidisciplinary team. Ultimate responsibility for assessment of safety rests with the Consultant psychiatrist.

Please contact 000 if you or someone you know is at immediate risk of harm.

Accessing Psychosocial Supports for Adults in Eastern Melbourne

There are 3 main ways to access Psychosocial supports for people in Eastern Melbourne

Which Psychosocial Support is the right one?

The NDIS provides planned support for people with significant psychosocial disability. There is a process involved in testing eligibility and then setting up a plan of supports. This can take some time. Additionally, not everyone who applies for NDIS will be found eligible. For these reasons there are Commonwealth and State funded psychosocial supports to meet people's needs whilst they test eligibility and set up their plan; and for people who do not yet qualify for the scheme.

There are 2 main types of alternative Psychosocial supports as follows:

For people who are not currently with Eastern Health MH Case management or NDIS

The Commonwealth government funded program called the National Psychosocial Support measure is provided by Neami National and auspiced by the Eastern Melbourne PHN. This provide up to 12 months of support for people of all ages who are not currently accessing NDIS supports. Please note that they may have met NDIS eligibility but do not yet have their funded supports in place. Testing NDIS eligibility is a key function of this support service.

For access Call NEAMI 1300 168 911

Or email EastMelbournePSS@neaminational.org.au

For people who are with Eastern Health MH Case management

The Victorian government has funded the Early Intervention Psychosocial Support response (EIPSR) to enable people to access psychosocial supports when they are either found ineligible for NDIS, not yet ready to apply for NDIS, or have NDIS but have not yet activated their support package. This service is provided by EACH in the Eastern region. Application can only be made via the Eastern Health MH case manager. This provides up to 12 months of support to people who are between 16 years and 65 years of age. Testing NDIS eligibility is a key function of this support service.

National Disability Insurance Scheme

Eligibility

To join the NDIS people need to meet access requirements. This includes the Scheme being available in their area, their age, their residency status, and the nature of their disability.

These can include:

- Aged between 7 and 65 years
- Live in Australia and have Australian residency
- Need support from a person because of a permanent and significant disability
- Use special equipment because of a permanent and significant disability
- Need some supports now to reduce future needs

Psychosocial disability is a term used to describe a disability that may arise from a mental health issue. Not everyone who has a mental health condition will have a psychosocial disability, but for people who do, it can be severe, longstanding and impact on their recovery. People with a disability as a result of their mental health condition may qualify for the NDIS.

Local Area Coordination for the East Metro is Latrobe Community Health. They employ Local Area Coordinators (LAC) who help people understand and access the NDIS. They also work with NDIS participants to develop and use their NDIS plan.

For most people aged seven years and older, an LAC will be their main point of contact for the NDIS. A LAC will connect people with disability to supports, services, activities in their community and other government services. LACs also work in communities to help them become more accessible and inclusive for all people with disability.

Service Pathway

Local Area Coordinator (LAC)

If you are eligible for an NDIS support plan, your LAC will have a conversation with you to learn about your current situation, supports, and goals to help develop your plan. Your LAC can also provide assistance throughout your plan if you have any questions.

- Provides assistance to connect and build informal and natural supports
- Work with participants on the ground to help access, and make the most of the NDIS
- Work with participants, carers and families, to have a planning conversation and to develop a NDIS plan, provide assistance to ensure plans are implemented effectively, monitored and reviewed
- Work with people who are eligible or not eligible for the NDIS as part of the Information, Linkages and Capacity Building (ILC) framework to link to community and mainstream supports based on their needs and interests
- Support individuals with disabilities to build strong, inclusive relationships in their communities
- Work with children with disabilities aged 7 to adults aged less than 65, their families and carers
- Build community and mainstream capacity to be more inclusive of all people with a disability

Types of Support

There are around 4.3 million Australians who have a disability. Within the next five years, the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) will provide more than $22 billion in funding a year to an estimated 500,000 Australians who have permanent and significant disability.

The NDIS can provide all people with disability with information and connections to services in their communities such as doctors, sporting clubs, support groups, libraries, and schools, as well as information about what support is provided by each state and territory government.

The types of supports that the NDIS may fund for participants include:

- daily personal activities
- transport to enable participation in community, social, economic, and daily life activities
- workplaces help to allow a participant to successfully get or keep employment in the open or supported labour market
- therapeutic supports including behaviour support
- help with household tasks to allow the participant to maintain their home environment
- help to a participant by skilled personnel in aids or equipment assessment, set up and training

- home modification design and construction
- mobility equipment, and
- vehicle modifications.

Potential Challenges

- People with psychosocial disabilities may not see themselves as disabled. They may also object to the idea of their condition being deemed permanent. Along with mistrust of the scheme, many people are declining to apply for the NDIS who would otherwise be eligible due to psychosocial disability, because they don't resonate with the language of the NDIS.
- As a support person, your role can be to assist people with psychosocial disabilities to weigh up their support options and consider testing their eligibility for the NDIS. You can outline the benefits of this individualised approach to support and have a Recovery focused conversation about what they would need in order to live a more meaningful life.

- HEAL: The HEAL program is a multidisciplinary program that integrates a community lawyer with a mental health professional to assist people experiencing multiple barriers to accessing the legal system and legal support with legal and psychosocial information, advice, representation, support and advocacy. Referrals are made by contacting ECLC.

Family Violence

- Intervention Order Support Service: ECLC provides a duty lawyer to assist clients at the Ringwood Magistrates' Court for the Family Violence Intervention Order lists on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays.
- SAGE: SAGE provides a unique model for providing intensive wraparound legal, family violence and financial counselling support to women with increased vulnerability experiencing, or at risk of, family violence with multiple legal issues. specifically:
 - Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities
 - CaLD communities
 - Women with disabilities
 - Women with mental health issues
 - Women who are socially or geographically isolated.
- Mabels: Mabels is a Health Justice Partnership between Eastern Community Legal Centre (ECLC), Boordawan Willam Aboriginal Healing Service and three local government maternal and child health services within the East. The program provides early intervention family violence legal assistance and support to women with children from the ages of 0-5. Referrals to the program are made through maternal and child health nurses.
- WELS: WELS is a Health Justice Partnership between ECLC and Eastern Health. The program provides early intervention family violence legal assistance and support to women attending Eastern Health's maternity services during their pregnancy. Referrals to the program are made through Eastern Health.

Elder Abuse

- ROSE: ROSE provides free legal, social and financial counselling support, and referrals, to older people (anyone 65+ or 50+ for Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander community) who are experiencing or are at risk of elder abuse. The ROSE Community Lawyer, Advocate and Financial Counsellor work together to provide a holistic, integrated service. ROSE also offers secondary consultations for professionals, friends and family members who have elder abuse concerns. Referrals can be made via the Elder Abuse Intake on 0429 697 960 or at ROSE@eclc.org.au, or by contacting ECLC. ROSE works in partnership with Onah.
- ELSA: ELSA provides free legal, social and financial counselling assistance, and referrals, to older people (anyone 65+ or 50+ for Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander community) experiencing or at risk of elder abuse who are or were recently patients (inpatients or outpatients) of Eastern Health. ELSA also offers secondary consultations regarding elder abuse for Eastern Health staff. Referrals can be made by asking an Eastern Health staff member to make a referral, contacting the Elder Abuse Intake on 0429 697 960 or at ELSA@eclc.org.au, or by contacting ECLC. ELSA is a Health Justice Partnership between ECLC and Eastern Health.

Potential Challenges to Access

ECLC operates from 9am to 5pm, Monday to Friday and is not available on public holidays or out of business hours.

ECLC may have a conflict of interest with individuals accessing the service and may need to provide an alternative referral pathway. A conflict of interest arises when an 'other party' to a legal matter has been seen by a legal service. You will need to know the full name and date of birth for any people involved in a legal matter so that ECLC can complete a conflict of interest check.

Tips for Access

Often accessing legal help early can increase the legal options that a person may have available to them. It can also prevent legal matters from escalating which can protect a person's mental, social and financial health. If you're unsure whether to refer someone to ECLC, the services available or how to refer, call ECLC's Intake team for a confidential chat or ask for a secondary consultation.

CALD Services

Migrant Information Centre (Eastern Melbourne)

Eligibility

Newly arrived refugees and permanent residency family stream migrants for the first 5 years of arrival in Australia or from the date the permanent residency visa was issued.

Catchments/Locations

Inner and Outer East Catchment areas including Boroondara, Knox, Manningham, Maroondah, Monash, Whitehorse and the Yarra Ranges.

Access

Call 9285 4888 or drop in at our offices: Suite 2, 27 Bank Street, Box Hill 3128 or 18 Bond Street, Ringwood 3134 or email mic@miceastmelb.com.au.

Service Pathway

The Migrant Information Centre (Eastern Melbourne) (MIC) is the primary settlement service in the Eastern Metropolitan Region (EMR). New arrivals from refugee backgrounds are referred for settlement support from the MIC after they are exited from the AMES Humanitarian Settlement Program. The MIC accepts self-referrals from eligible clients and referrals from other agencies. The MIC has staff who speak over 29 community languages, and we use interpreters as required. The MIC is also able to provide secondary consultations to support the referral pathway for members of the community from culturally and linguistically diverse (CALD) backgrounds.

Types of Support

- Settlement Services: A caseworker is appointed to all individuals/families referred to our service. Caseworkers work with the client to assess their settlement needs and goals for all family members if appropriate. Younger family members aged from 12 to 25 years are referred to MIC Youth Settlement caseworkers. Other services provided through settlement services include:
 - Information sessions: The MIC provides more than 60 information sessions annually on a wide range of topics such as employment rights and responsibilities, completing the census, health information, education systems in Australia, pedestrian safety for young children, etc.
 - Life skills programs: Digital literacy, financial literacy, “Living in Australia” programs that cover the parliamentary and legal systems, driver education programs, swimming programs, parenting programs, healthy lifestyles programs, etc.
 - Playgroups: Two multicultural playgroups in Croydon and Ringwood, two Chinese grandparent playgroups in Ringwood and Mount Waverley, and one

- playgroup in partnership with FVREE targeting the Zomi community and focused on gender equality.
- Homework Support Programs: Two homework support programs at Great Ryrie Primary School and Croydon Primary School. Volunteer tutors are available for one-on-one homework support for youth.
 - Children’s holiday programs
 - Youth life skills programs: Swimming programs, Youth services marathon where young people use public transport to visit local youth services, Changing Gears driving education program to gain their Learner’s Permit, Employment programs, youth holiday programs, refugee youth leadership programs, young women’s groups and young men’s groups.
 - Youth outreach: MIC youth caseworkers provide outreach services in secondary schools with high numbers of students from refugee backgrounds.
- Family Violence:
 - Case management support: MIC settlement caseworkers support eligible settlement clients who are at risk or experiencing family violence. They are generalist workers under the MARAM and they assess risk and support clients to understand the services available to them, what to expect and how to access them. MIC caseworkers also support perpetrators to understand Australian law and access support services.
 - Information sessions: Topics include Family Law in Australia, understanding the definition of family violence, etc.
 - Group programs: Programs available through our settlement program include driver education programs for women, digital literacy programs for women, financial literacy programs for women, women’s group programs and men’s group programs.
 - Specialist Family Violence Services: The MIC provides counselling for women from CALD backgrounds who are at risk of, experiencing or have experienced family violence. There are no visa or length of residency requirements for this service. Two therapeutic women’s groups are held annually as part of this program.
 - Family Violence Prevention Programs: Strengthening families programs for couples in partnership with Relationships Australia, women’s discussion groups, men’s discussion groups, respectful relationships groups for EAL students in upper primary and secondary schools, animations and short videos from respected faith/community leaders that promote gender equity.
 - Alcohol and Other Drugs counselling: MIC has an agreement with EACH Sure services to provide an outreach alcohol and other drugs counselling service at MIC offices. This arrangement enables the MIC to refer clients for counselling that is provided in a safe and familiar environment to reduce the shame and stigma of addiction when reaching out for support.

- Employment Services:
 - Jobs Victoria Mentor Program: The MIC JVMP program is a Specialist Program funded through Jobs Victoria to support eligible people from CALD backgrounds to become job ready and then place them into employment. MIC mentors work with clients with permanent residency visas and asylum seekers with work rights who are long term unemployed or at risk of long-term unemployment and want to work more than 15 hours per week. MIC mentors also work with employers and training institutions and agencies to assist clients to become job ready and support their placement with employers.
 - Settlement support: MIC settlement caseworkers including youth settlement caseworkers provide one-on-one support to newly arrived refugees and migrants to secure employment. They assist them to write resumes, increase their interview skills, search for jobs and write applications.
 - Community Employment Connector (CEC): The CEC program provides advice and referrals for clients to employment support services and training opportunities that will enable them to reach their employment goals. The MIC CEC program targets all youth and adults from CALD backgrounds regardless of their visa and time in Australia. The CEC works with casual project workers to provide outreach in libraries, shopping centres and local community events.
- Aged Care and Disability Services
 - Access and Support Program: The A&S program assists older people to access aged care services and younger people to access disability services for those that cannot access services themselves due to their diversity. Diversity includes people from CALD backgrounds, Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander peoples, those experiencing financial hardship, at risk of homelessness, dementia, or those from the LGBTIQ+ communities.
 - Community Visitors Scheme: The CVS program matches volunteers to isolated older people living in residential aged care facilities and older people living independently and receiving a Home Care Package.

Potential Challenges to Access

MIC settlement services are available for refugee and family stream migrants for the first five years of their settlement. If clients have been in Australia over five years or they have a temporary visa, MIC caseworkers will refer them to other services that can assist them.
