

Cancer Care & Survivorship in General Practice

2020

11

AUGUST

Limited spots book now!

General practitioners, cancer clinicians, Aboriginal health workers and nurses are invited to join the Cancer Care & Survivorship in General Practice series of webinars as presented by the Melbourne metropolitan PHNs.

Participants will be able to pose questions when registering, and take part in the discussion during the webinars using the chat function.

Each session will build upon the previous.

The series will help participants gain insights into:

- The role of Optimal Care Pathways (OCPs) and online pathways;
- The barriers and enablers to implementation of OCP recommendations;
- The GP's role during and immediately after cancer treatment and in survivorship care (long term management of cancer as a chronic disease); and
- Health literacy, survival rate, treatment side effects, finance, employment, carer, mental health, recurrence.
