Co-design and development of a new AOD service model for EMPHN

General Practitioner Consultation

EMPHN is undertaking a co-design process to develop a new AOD service model that will be commissioned by mid-2019. We invite participation and contribution into service model design and development by General Practitioners. The co-design process is led by 360Edge.

Event details

A key element of the co-design process is to hold face-to-face workshops with key stakeholders.

This workshop is specifically for General Practitioners to provide their feedback on the development of a draft service model.

EMPHN and 360Edge greatly value your participation in this important workshop. General Practitioners will be remunerated for their involvement in this consultation process.

About 360Edge

360Edge has been commissioned by EMPHN to lead the co-design process and develop the new AOD service model.

360Edge are Australia's leading expert consultants in alcohol and other drug responses.

360Edge combine more than 25 years of academic research with hands-on clinical experience to provide solutions that are both evidence based and practical to implement.

360Edge understand how to make it work in the real world.
