Benchmarking for Practice 2030

Creating Great Teams

Teams are at the centre of most organizations. Moving towards 2030 teams that are collaborative, inventive, supportive, productive and enjoyable will need to be the rule rather than the exception.

Event overview

This workshop will leverage insights from neuroscience to harness the talents and strengths of individuals. It will focus on creating great teams through identification of the strengths and weaknesses within the team, matching those to the organisation's strategic plan developing processes and opportunities for team members to excel.

Learning outcomes

- Identifying the key developmental stages of team development
- Understanding your team – strengths and weaknesses and how to the 'I' back into team
- Motivating teams – encouraging positive behavior, engagement and cohesiveness
- Effective communication
- Giving and receiving feedback
- Performance engagement – key performance indicators and reviews
- Encouraging teams to analyse problems and generate ideas
- Supporting continuous learning, sharing and innovation within a team
