e-Referrals: Scanning and naming documents/letters

In Medical Director and Best Practice

For practice managers and receptionists

EMPHN is part of a consortium working on electronic referrals from GPs into health services, in a move to 'axe the fax'. eReferral provides a better patient experience by ensuring the safe transfer of information about a patient between a patient's GP and other healthcare providers, ensuring quality and continuity of care is maintained as the patient transitions in and out of specialist care.
