STIs and PrEP: An update for primary care

For GPs and practice nurses

EMPHN and VHHITAL invite GPs and the primary health care team to an update on managing gonorrhoea, syphilis, chlamydia and pre-exposure prophylaxis (PrEP) in general practice.

Facilitated by:

Dr Nick Medland, Consultant Sexual Health Physician,
Melbourne Sexual Health Centre.

Learning outcomes:

- Identify at-risk patients to screen, take a sexual history and test for syphilis, gonorrhoea and chlamydia
- Describe the clinical presentation of gonorrhoea, syphilis and chlamydia
- Correctly perform testing for chlamydia, gonorrhoea and syphilis
- Manage patient treatment, contact tracing and referrals for syphilis, gonorrhoea and chlamydia
- Identify patients for pre-exposure prophylaxis and initiate treatment, monitor renal function and screen for STIs and HIV appropriately
