Suicide prevention training for community - Maroondah

This suicide prevention training has been developed by Wesley LifeForce to educate and empower local Australian communities. The training is being provided to support Eastern Melbourne PHN's Place-Based Suicide Prevention trial in the City of Maroondah.

Training is free and is open to community members aged 18 years and over. Priority will be given to people who live, work or study in the City of Maroondah.

Event overview

This workshop will provide participants with the skills to help recognise when a person may be having thoughts of suicide and to know the appropriate action to take.

The workshop will cover:

- risk and protective factors
- identifying the warning signs that someone may be at risk of suicide
- how to ask directly about suicide intent
- local and national support and resources that are available to support a person at risk.

Participants will receive a certificate of attendance as well as support materials.

Simple effective interventions can make a real difference and can save lives.

Registration

"Register now" or via <https://bit.ly/2QxIjy5>

If after registering you find that you are unable to attend, please cancel your registration through Eventbrite or by contacting events@emphn.org.au or 9046 0300 so your place can be allocated to someone on the waiting list.

Wesley LifeForce is not a counselling service. We encourage you to assess your level of resilience when undertaking this training and recommend that if you are currently distressed or have been recently bereaved by suicide, to delay participating until those experiences have settled.

Wesley LifeForce gratefully acknowledges the funding provided by the Australian Government.
